

John Accunzo has been contributing his audio engineering talents to a wide variety of productions as a diligent servant of the Lord for nearly four decades. His main focus has always been on ministry first, ever ready to labor for the Lord's sake and demonstrating an earnest desire for hearts to be brought closer to Jesus. John continually strives for excellence when it comes to the presentation of artist's music. He only renders his services to musicians, bands, and organizations that are clearly grounded in principle, vision as well as an overall philosophy that is consistent with the word of God. Over the years, John has ensured that the message, music and spoken words of many local Christian artists, along with gifted speakers, have been skillfully communicated to literally thousands of ears.

Even though completing some formal and practical training, there are 2 important people John considers to be his mentors, who truly inspired him to do what he does. First is Gregg Suriano of Long Island, NY. Gregg is a prolific singer, songwriter, musician, producer, arranger and music teacher, who was the first Christian Artist John ever met at age 14. The second person is Michael Turro of Panavid, Inc, who served as Technical Director of Meadowbrook Church, a Willow Creek affiliate, in North Haledon, NJ. John worked under Michael's watchful eye and was given the opportunity to put into practice the many things he learned. If you like anything about the way he engineers, it came from one of these two individuals. Despite all of the activities mentioned here and the excitement of engineering live events every time John gets to sit behind a mixer, the most exciting and humbling moment in John's life was when he was ordained into ministry in March of 2006 by Pastor Kau J. Dolopei-Hollis of The Church of the Living God in Philadelphia, PA. John states, "I look forward to serving any of you, who need the skills which God has given me, in order to further your ministry, while helping you to accomplish the great commission".

Specialties: Making an old, antiquated sound equipment and related supplies sound their best. Being successful at this usually amazes the listener and keeps the NPO, Church or school within their budgetary constraints. John also specializes in running sound and training sound operator volunteers with a special emphasis on the proper presentation of live music in Cofeehouse to medium-sized live venues.

For over 10 years, John has been serving as the Ministry Director and FOH Engineer of the "Souled Out Coffeehouse", currently located in Huntingdon Valley, PA. He is also the Vice President of "Battle for Children Charities", where he promotes their efforts and serves as the Talent Coordinator for this major annual fund raising event, now known as, "The Battle of The Christian Bands & Musicians Against Child Abuse". John is happily married to his wife Justusphine, and lives in NE Philadelphia.
